Vincent T Joachim

I love to tell stories and capture God's beauty through my photography. I work with a digital Canon SLR camera, a Mac computer and Adobe Photoshop as my main tools. If you give me a plane ticket, I will go to any destination in the world. I am really inspired when I travel and see cultural diversity.

In the majority of my work, I try to keep the values of a photojournalist by not manipulating my photographs to create a false scene and only enhancing colors within their natural spectrum.

I like to challenge myself by trying to photograph different subject matter. I enjoy capturing landscapes, urban scenery, sports, culture, color, reflections, night photography, hip-hop music, travel, waterscapes, clouds, and any diverse story telling subjects.

My style is a fusion of photojournalism and multimedia with my faith reflecting in my work.
